

Plot Protection Perks!

Plots protect property.

They are designed to stop other players from changing or using protected land unless they have permission.

What Plots Can Protect

Depending on permissions, plot protection can affect:

- breaking/placing blocks
- trampling farmland
- opening containers
- using doors, trapdoors, gates, buttons, and levers
- using items on blocks
- using buckets
- interacting with armor stands, item frames, and paintings
- interacting with entities
- damaging hostile and passive mobs
- damaging players through PvP settings
- vehicle access such as boats and minecarts
- fire/block burning and explosions
- natural hostile mob spawning
- tree and plant growth crossing plot boundaries

Plots Are Not Full Safe Zones

You can still take normal Minecraft damage inside a plot and die.

Horses

Horse access still depends on ModN Equine horse permissions, not on /plot panel permissions.

If You Cannot Perform an Action...

If you cannot do something inside a plot, you probably do not have the required permission.

Ask the plot owner to check your member permissions, or contact a mod via a #support-ticket on the discord, or by typing `/ticket create (comment)` while online.
